IN JUVENILE COURT

EIGHT YOUNGSTERS UP BEFORE JUDGE DAWSON

PARENTS WERE PRESENT

Court Orders Youthful Offenders to Quit Cigarettes, Stay Home Nights and Attend School Regularly.

Judge John M. Dawson's office in the court house this morning was the scene of a juvenile party with Judge Dawson as host and the invited but unwilling guests "chaperoned" by Sheriff Dowden.

Hilarity and merriment was lacking and in its place were dejected faces and sixteen pairs of hands uneasily twirling hats and caps in expectation of a strenuous session. The eight youngsters were not disappointed.

"Well, boys, I'm mighty sorry to see you in trouble. Let's see if we can't straighten things out," said Judge Dawson, as he adjusted his glasses and began to open a suspicious loking book. Eight youthful faces began to show signs of uneasiness.

Called before him, one at a time, it developed that the youngsters—their ages were from twelve to seventeen yearshad been guilty of a variety of offenses. Parents of several of the boys were present and took a part in the proceedings and aided Judge Dawson to learn the real facts in the case by urging the truth be told. There were denials in several instances but the evidence was all against the boys

"One of them said you wouldn't do anything to them," interrupted a parent.

"Which one said that?" inquired Judge Dawson.

The boy was pointed out.

"You boys will never know how close you have been to being sent to Booneville. I am going to break this thing up if I have to put some of you in teh pen, some in the reform school and some in the county jail. I'm going to give you a chance to make good, however, and to make better boys and good citizens."

Here are the rules I am going to impose, and the sheriff will see they are carried out. You may get by for a day or two, but he and I will find it out and it will be Booneville without any more ado. Here they are: No cigarettes. If I hear of any of you smoking again, I'll send you to the reform school in twenty minutes; no running the streets at night, stay at home with your parents; you must all keep away from one another—form new associations and those of you who have been out of school will be required to return in the morning, and I must hear good reports from both teachers and parents and from the sheriff."

Each of the boys promised to abide by Judge Dawson's decision and obey the rules he gave them and eight repentant youngsters filed out of the room.

Will J. Montgomery is expected to be able to return home the last of the week from St. Joseph where he has been taking treatment in a sanatarium. He is greatly improved in health.

COLORED BOY GIVEN PAROLE

Everett Gunn Is Charged by Court Not to Shoot Craps—Perkins vs. Bilby Note Case Heard Today.

Everett Gunn, colored, was before Judge Dawson in circuit court today to e admitted to parole on recommendation of the prosecuting attorney. Gunn plead guilty to the theft of a quantity of corn from J. B. Robinson.

"One of the requirements of the parole will be that you don't shoot any craps," Judge Dawson told Gunn.

"Jedge, I don't do that nohow,"

Prosecutor McCaffrey looked surprised and laughingly told the court he was minded to withdraw his recommendation for the parole. "A darkey that doesnt shoot craps is quite a novelty," he declared. Gunn will be required to pay the cost in the case.

It was erroneously stated that Clarence Piveral was continued on parole. Piveral was discharged by the court.

The court this afternoon is hearing the case of Chas. J. Perkins vs. R. I. Bilby, suit to recover on a note.

Clun enclosed a number of snap shots among them being one of an American cemetery and others of the scenery around their camp and town. In a dug out vacated by a German crew, Clun also found some negatives left by the Germans which he developed and they show some interesting views of German officers and gun crew.

GERMAN STATES MAY SECEDE

Struggle Between Prussia and South Germany Is Forecast When National Assembly Meets at Weimar.

Amsterdam, Feb. 4.—As the date of the opening of the national assembly at Weimar February approaches, the struggle between Prussia and South Germany becomes more bitter. If the situation continues Bavaria will likely secede from the rest of Germany, according to information from Munich today. The choice of Weimar as the meeting place of the assembly was victory for Bavaria, but the assembly is expected to be transferred to Berlin after being in session for a fortnight at Weimar. Chancellor Ebert will probably be chosen provisional president. The leaders of the Bavarians assert the Prussians are trying to make capitol of Bavaria.

LOOK FOR BIG YEAR

AUTOMOBILE DEALERS EXPECT UNUSUAL DEMAND FOR CARS

THE PRICE QUESTION

With Production Not Yet Back to Pre-War Basis, Prices Will Not Show Much of a Reduction.

It is the opinion of automobile dealers that four years of war conditions have resulted in putting the motor car business in a healthier state than it has been at any time in its history. These years of trial have been highly beneficial in proving what was sound ... what unsound in both principle ... practice. The predominating ...rength of the business has been finally emphasized.

The immediate future could hardly be more encouraging. As one Maryville dealer expressed it today, anyone who can think straight enough to add two and two can prophesy safely that the coming year is going to be the best the motor car has had."

Wages and crop prices have never been so high in this or any other country as they have been in the United States during the last two or three years. In spite of the high cost of living tens of thousands of people to whom the purchase of a car was formerly more of a wish than a hope are now in a position to buy most any car they may choose.

As a result of these high wages, high crop prices and large profits, a per capita wealth has been created that will naturally find an outlet in generous and wide-spread buying.

Many views have been expressed regarding the prices of automobiles now and what they will be in the near months to come. It is reasonable to assume that since the prices of all cars, both pleasure and commercial, increased so rapidly at the beginning of the war, they will necessarily decrease with the increase in production of cars. But at present there is very little increase in production. The large automobile builders as yet have not been able to get back to pre-war conditions. They are unable to get the proper metal for the construction of the cars. Until normal conditions are again reached the production will increase slowly.

There is an apparent shortage of 700,000 cars in the passenger car market To make up this defficiency the output of 1919 should reach approximately 3,000,000 cars, yet it is doubtful whether the output will reach half that amount. The year will close with the manufacturers still a good ways behind their market. Another way of looking at it is that every car that is fit for anything will be sold this year, and that in all probability it will be found a year from now that two cars could have been sold for every car that actually moves from trade to consumer hands.

The truck situation is different, but no less encouraging. The manufacturers who have been engaged in building trucks for the government, about fifty

IN HEALTH CRUSADE

JUNIOR RED CROSS CAMPAIGN WILL LAST 12 WEEKS

DAILY HEALTH CHORES

Object Is to Form Hobits of Sanitation and Cleanliness That Will Prove Barrier to Disease.

The health campaign of the Junior Red Cross is announced to begin February 9 and will continue for twelve weeks.

The object of this crusade is to enlist the interest and enthusiasm of the children so that they will form the habit of doing the daily health chores and thus lay the foundation for good health. It is under the direction of the American Red Cross and the National Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis.

There are eleven health chores listed and if the child keeps these for two weeks he receives the title of Page; if he keeps them for four weeks he becomes a Squire and wears the Squire button; if for eight weeks, he becomes a full Knight and receives a silver pin; and for a total of twelve weeks he becomes a real Knight Banneret and wears the gold Knighthood pin.

The health chores are:

1. I washed my hands before each meal today.
2. I washed my face and ears and neck and cleaned my finger nails today.
3. I tried to keep fingers, pencils and everything that might be unclean out of my mouth and nose.
4. I drank a glass of water before each meal and before going to bed, and drank no tea or coffee.
5. I brushed my teeth in the morning and in the evening.
6. I took ten or more deep breaths of fresh air.
7. I played outdoors or with windows open more than thirty minutes.
8. I was in bed ten hours and kept my windows open.

(Boys and girls thirteen years of age may change this to nine hours).

9. I tried today to sit up straight, stand straight, eat slowly and attend to the needs of the body regularly.
10. I tried to keep clean and good natured and to do some service.
11. I took a bath on the days marked (X).

To Parents:—If your boy or girl does the Modern Health Crusade chores or duties faithfully for one week he will be taught valuable lessons; if he keeps them up strictly for two or more weeks he will lay the foundation for health habits.

To Boys and Girls: — Seventy-two points in one week makes a perfect record. This requires all of the first ten to be done daily and a bath taken at least twice. More than two baths may be counted extra. To receive buttons and pins you must do at least fifty-four chores every week. Your teacher must be satisfied by your cleanness every day and by other signs that you are doing chores thoroughly before you have a right to the certificate, button or pin.

To the Teachers of Nodaway County: —You have received a letter from the Chapter School Committee of the Junior Red Cross setting forth the purposes of this campaign. To say that it was inaugurated by the National Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis and has been urged by the American Red Cross is to assure you that it is no fad gotten up to add work to your already busy day. The calls for production are over to a large extent, but the days of reconstruction bring many problems. Not the least of these are the health problems, which have arisen, as a need through the revelations of the medical examinations of the army. You are seeing in a very definite way, the necessity of health habits. You can do a valuable service by co-operating in this work. Please read the literature sent you and enlist the children and parents.

COVEY WRITES A "DINGER"

Says St. Mihiel Was Like Shooting Rabbits Only It Was Heinies.

Corporal Charles Covey, the son of N. C. Covey, formerly of this city, now living at Pueblo, Colo., has been seeing life in France with the 356th regiment, 89th Division. The following is a copy of his Christmas letter to his father and it shows that spirit of all the Missouri men that took them straight through the lines and brought them out smiling and ready for another "smash" is necessary.

LaBourbale, France, Nov. 23.

Dear Dad: We have permission to write our "dads" a real live Xmas letter and I will try to make mine a "dinger." First a few words about where I am at present. I was one of the picked few from my company who were granted leaves, because we had "stuck it out" with our company from start to finish. That don't sound like it was hard, yet there were very few who managed to do it. This place is used for a "Yank Leave Center" and everything is fixed up lovely and I sure am enjoying myself. Lots of good eats and plenty of sleep; beautiful scenery and "beau coup" shows and amusements. I enjoy watching the people over here more than anything and also trying to talk to them, for they are always trying to do a Yank a favor. But they can't figure out how the Yanks could whip Germany in three short months. A German captain that we captured, expressed it very well. He said, "The Americans know no fear, they shoot straight, they never miss, always hit in the head and never look back." That is just the way we did it. We whipped them because we had more "pep" and more horse sense, for a Yank could fight in three different ways at once, while Heinie could fight only in just the one way he had been trained. I have covered quite a lot of this country since coming over, seen lots of beautiful scenery, lots of historic places, but give me the good old U. S. every time.

This morning a guide took some of us up to a small peak here called Charlemagne's Plateau where we could see 5 villages and had a wonderful view. It is 4,200 feet high and is the place where Caesar once camped with his army. I know you like that stuff.

Well, dad, I have seen quite a lot of hard fighting and some that was easy. I was over 100 days on the line, but it is all over now. I was in the St. Mihiel drive, my outfit being in the front wave. It was a walk away for us. You remember shooting rabbits, when you were with a big bunch and all spread out in a skirmish line? Well, that was the St. Mihiel drive only the rabbits were boches. We held the line there for a while, moved to the Argonne forest, were in reserve and Nov. 1 my company went into the front line again and stayed until the finish and also it was d——hard fighting. We crossed the Meuse river at Pouilly, near Sedan, the night of Nov. 10 and fought like bears to get a foot hold and keep it. The hardest fighting I have ever seen was the last 18 hours of the war, when we fought our way across the river and up the hill on the other side. But it is "finis tout suite" now and I guess we will be on the way home in a couple of months and those fights make better verbal stories than written ones, so you see I will have quite a lot to tell. I will get my first service strpe on my birthday but I am not sporting any wound stripes for which I am duly thankful. I will try to bring home a few small souvenirs, both German and French but not many for a dough-boy carries everything he owns on his back, so you see the reason why there won't be many. When I get home, dad, we sure will step about some and make up for lost time. I will probably be back to my outfit before I write again. Wishing you all a merry Christmas and a happy New Year I remain,

Your loving son,

BUT 13 OF HIS COMPANY LEFT

David Lehmer, with the A. E. F., Says Some of the Hardest Battles Were on Verdun Front.

In a letter to his sister, Miss Bertha Lehmer, David N. Lehmer writes from France as follows:

Somewhere in France, Dec. 27, 1918.

—We are staying in a village called Langres—it is some place. I am with the 26th division, one of the first full divisions over to France and one of the main fighting divisions and I hope it will be one of the first divisions home We ought to be home by Easter. I also received the Christmas box about two weeks ago. I also received candy, tobacco and cigarettes from the Y. M. C. A. and some candy from the government. The last time I wrote you I was in Verdun, was there for a few days rest. We went up to the Verdun front October 16 with 200 men and remained in the trenches until the 10th of November. We had thirteen men left when we came out; some of them were killed, others gassed and wounded. I was not on the front when the last shot was fired being one of the lucky ones to get a furlough the 10th of November to a place called Uriage-des-Bains in the southern part of France where I had a good rest and a good time. The Verdun front is one of the worst fronts of the battle. I can be thankful that I am still alive and not wounded. The boys I came over with were sent to different places and about one third of the company I was with were killed. Will Knobe of Falls City, was killed in action. We sure had some mean battles during the last moth of fighting. Many of the boys over here have the "flu" at present.

FIRST CROP OF CHICKENS

T. J. Penisten Has 100 Already and Expects To Be the "Spring Chicken King" of Community.

The spring like days of last month had the same effect on T. J. Penisten's flock of hens, as it did on some of the amateur gardners round about, made them think it was real spring. Consequently the hens went to laying like sixty and the more industrious of the lot went to setting.

Result—T. J. has over one hundred spring chickens that are over two weeks old. Twenty of the lot are over a month old. These were hatched in the old fashioned way and the rest in an incubator. Mr. Penisten has a hundred-egg incubation ready to hatch next week. He raises Rhode Island Reds and dreams of a twin-six cylinder car from the profits this year.

The first American paper money was made in 1740.

A RAW, SORE THROAT

Eases Quickly When You Apply a Little Musterole.

And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds on the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). Nothing like Musterole for croupy children. Keep it handy for instant use.

PHYSICALLY FIT AT ANY AGE

It isn't age, it's careless living that puts men "down and out." Keep your internal organs in good condition and you will always be physically fit.

The kidneys are the most overworked organs in the human body. When they break down under the strain and the deadly uric acid accumulates and crystallizes look out! These sharp crystals tear and scratch the delicate urinary channels causing excruciating pain and set up irritations which may cause premature degeneration and often do turn into deadly Bright's Disease.

One of the first warnings of sluggish kidney action is pain or stiffness in the small of the back, loss of appetite, indigestion or rheumatism.

The United Workers Auxiliary met last Thursday with 19 members present. Officers for the Auxiliary were elected as follows: Mrs. Chas. Epperson, chairman; Mrs. Henry Bartlett, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. George Collins, Mrs. Wilbur Clayton, inspectors. Nineteen refugee garments were made at this meeting.

Home Service.

To Discharged Soldiers: Through your months of faithful service the Red Cross has been your true friend. Now that you are again in civilian life is no reason why the same organization is not still your friend. We now will serve you through a different channel of the Red Cross, known as Home Service. The time has passed for Surgical Dressings and our soldier lads are coming home. We appreciate each and every one of you and the service you have given, whether it be in the camps of the United States or foreign service. To show this appreciation the Red Cross organized the Home Service department. The duty of this department is to assist the families of soldiers and the soldiers themselves in any way possible. Like any organization there are certain regulations which the Home Service representatives must follow. Discharged soldiers will find it to their advantage to get in touch with this department of the Red Cross immediately after their discharge. We want our Nodaway County boys and their families to have the privileges which have been legislated for them by our government. New bills are being passed at present dealing with the right of the discharged soldiers. Copies of these legislations are sent to the Home Service departments of the Red Cross. All legal advice through this organization is free for the asking. We are glad to be able to serve you in return for your most wonderful service to us. No soldier should feel that he is indebted to the Red Cross because they helped him procure his back pay or some other service. We are so glad to help you. Bring your troubles to us. We will be your confidential friend. In each township there is a Home Service representative and you can often get your advice through this person.

To the Branch Representatives of the Home Service. Give your department publicity through your local newspapers. You should get in touch with every returned soldier in your township and see that he takes advantage of the privileges our government has given him. This is the largest field for the Red Cross work now existing and we must live up to the standards our organization has established. The township reports should be in now.

The Home Coming.

Back from the days of their danger daring.
Over the leagues of foam,
Back from the scenes of their far warfaring,
Our Boys are coming home.

We who have praise for them, and through long days for them
Lifted a silent prayer,
How shall we meet them, how shall we greet them,
Dauntless and debonair?

We are proud of them, all the crowd of them;
Loud be the lilt of our cheers!
In the wild rattle and rage of the battle,
Ah, but they know no fears!

SENDS POEM TO MOTHER

Lester Holaday Writes to Mother at Home in Verse.

Lester Holaday, the son of Mrs. Ida Holaday of this city has written and sent to his mother the following poem which expresses how the boys over seas feel about coming home.

France Needs Us No More.

O, Sweet U. S. so fair and strong,
In France we are waiting for you,
Our heads we are scratching and inquiring,
Why on earth we don't go home.
In France we have fought for you,
And in battles our comrades have fallen,
But in our hearts no evil dwells
Since we have forced the Kaiser to abdicate.
Fine our course and our dress,
Hard our lot and sorrows deep,
But ancient history brings to our minds,
Of Demons that were forced to resign.
On earth the winds of peace will blow,
When to Hell, the Kaiser has gone,
To pay the price of sins so great,
A dandy fire for the Devils, he will make.
Let us join hands and hasten away,
To our sweetheart and mothers all,
Our visions are so great,
That we are a raring to return to the States.
Our hearts are not full of woe,
But we are all a raring to go,
For our Sister Nation needs us no more,
So good bye France, we are a going home.

Christening Boats an Old Custom.

From the Detroit News.

Date of the origin of the "launching ceremony" is uncertain, but records tell how ancient Egyptians blessed their ships as they entered the water and the Greeks and Romans are known to have done likewise, using both wine and water. When the British ship, Sovereign was launched in 1488, in the presence of Henry VII, the vessel was named and ceremoniously blessed. We read that "a mitred prelate, with attendant train of priests and choristers, croziers in hand, with candle, book and bell and holy water," participated in the benediction. In France, during the Eighteenth and early part of the Nineteenth centuries, the launching ceremony was singularly akin to the baptismal service for an infant. This was especially so where merchant craft and fishing vessels were concerned. The practice lay close to the hearts of the pious people, and the parish priest usually officiated Not infrequently the ship's godparents were children. No wine was used, but holy water was sprinkled on the bow wtih the giving of a benediction.

FRENCH SACRIFICE FOR LIBERTY HEROIC

Six millions of French sons have offered their lives that democracy might live. 30 million other French men and women sacrificed their all for the same purpose. America's debt of gratitude to France for this is very great. We also are indebted to her for an invaluable remedy for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments discvored by her peasants, which it is reported has saved many American lives and prevented thousands of surgical operations. Geo. H. Mayr, for many years a prominent Chicago chemist, imports the ingredients and sells this remedy under the name of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucous from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Maryville Drug Co. and druggists everywhere.—Adv.

of them in all have turned out approximately 127,000 war trucks. These will not have to reconvert their plants to any great extent, but are planning to go right on from their present position. Thus an output of 350,000 commercial vehicles is predicted for 1919, equivalent to 87¾ per cent of all the trucks in use a year ago. What the great growth in highways transport thus indicated means the industry as a whole can hardly be foretold at this time.

Maryville automobile dealers are unable to get all the cars they want. In every case they have contracted for as many as the companies will allow them. The prices probably will remain the same until the production of pleasure cars exceed the demand.

IN JUVENILE [illegible]

EIGHT YOUNGSTERS UP BEFORE JUDGE DAWSON

PARENTS WERE PRESENT

Court Orders Youthful Offenders to Quit Cigarettes, Stay Home Nights and Attend School Regularly.

Judge John M. Dawson's office in the court house this morning was the scene of a juvenile party with Judge Dawson as host and the invited but unwilling guests "chaperoned" by Sheriff Dowden.

Hilarity and merriment was lacking and in its place were dejected faces and sixteen pairs of hands uneasily twirling hats and caps in expectation of a strenuous session. The eight youngsters were not disappointed.

"Well, boys, I'm mighty sorry to see you in trouble. Let's see if we can't straighten things out," said Judge Dawson, as he adjusted his glasses and began to open a suspicious loking book. Eight youthful faces began to show signs of uneasiness.

Called before him, one at a time, it developed that the youngsters—their ages were from twelve to seventeen yearshad been guilty of a variety of offenses. Parents of several of the boys were present and took a part in the proceedings and aided Judge Dawson to learn the real facts in the case by urging the truth be told. There were denials in several instances but the evidence was all against the boys

"One of them said you wouldn't do anything to them," interrupted a parent.

"Which one said that?" inquired Judge Dawson.

The boy was pointed out.

"You boys will never know how close you have been to being sent to Booneville. I am going to break this thing up if I have to put some of you in teh pen, some in the reform school and some in the county jail. I'm going to give you a chance to make good, however, and to make better boys and good citizens."

Here are the rules I am going to impose, and the sheriff will see they are carried out. You may get by for a day or two, but he and I will find it out and it will be Booneville without any more ado. Here they are: No cigarettes. If I hear of any of you smoking again, I'll send you to the reform school in twenty minutes; no running the streets at night, stay at home with your parents; you must all keep away from one another—form new associations and those of you who have been out of school will be required to return in the morning, and I must hear good reports from both teachers and parents and from the sheriff."

Each of the boys promised to abide by Judge Dawson's decision and obey the rules he gave them and eight repentant youngsters filed out of the room.

Will J. Montgomery is expected to be able to return home the last of the week from St. Joseph where he has been taking treatment in a sanatarium. He is greatly improved in health.

COLORED BOY GIVEN PAROLE

Everett Gunn Is Charged by Court Not to Shoot Craps—Perkins vs. Bilby Note Case Heard Today.

Everett Gunn, colored, was before Judge Dawson in circuit court today to e admitted to parole on recommendation of the prosecuting attorney. Gunn plead guilty to the theft of a quantity of corn from J. B. Robinson.

"One of the requirements of the parole will be that you don't shoot any craps," Judge Dawson told Gunn.

"Jedge, I don't do that nohow,"

Prosecutor McCaffrey looked surprised and laughingly told the court he was minded to withdraw his recommendation for the parole. "A darkey that doesnt shoot craps is quite a novelty," he declared. Gunn will be required to pay the cost in the case.

It was erroneously stated that Clarence Piveral was continued on parole. Piveral was discharged by the court.

The court this afternoon is hearing the case of Chas. J. Perkins vs. R. I. Bilby, suit to recover on a note.

GERMAN STATES MAY SECEDE

Struggle Between Prussia and South Germany Is Forecast When National Assembly Meets at Weimar.

Amsterdam, Feb. 4.—As the date of the opening of the national assembly at Weimar February approaches, the struggle between Prussia and South Germany becomes more bitter. If the situation continues Bavaria will likely secede from the rest of Germany, according to information from Munich today. The choice of Weimar as the meeting place of the assembly was victory for Bavaria, but the assembly is expected to be transferred to Berlin after being in session for a fortnight at Weimar. Chancellor Ebert will probably be chosen provisional president. The leaders of the Bavarians assert the Prussians are trying to make capitol of Bavaria.

LOOK FOR BIG YEAR

AUTOMOBILE DEALERS EXPECT UNUSUAL DEMAND FOR CARS

THE PRICE QUESTION

With Production Not Yet Back to Pre-War Basis, Prices Will Not Show Much of a Reduction.

It is the opinion of automobile dealers that four years of war conditions have resulted in putting the motor car business in a healthier state than it has been at any time in its history. These years of trial have been highly beneficial in proving what was sound [illegible] what unsound in both principle [illegible] practice. The predominating strength of the business has been finally emphasized.

The immediate future could hardly be more encouraging. As one Maryville dealer expressed it today, anyone who can think straight enough to add two and two can prophesy safely that the coming year is going to be the best the motor car has had."

Wages and crop prices have never been so high in this or any other country as they have been in the United States during the last two or three years. In spite of the high cost of living tens of thousands of people to whom the purchase of a car was formerly more of a wish than a hope are now in a position to buy most any car they may choose.

As a result of these high wages, high crop prices and large profits, a per capita wealth has been created that will naturally find an outlet in generous and wide-spread buying.

Many views have been expressed regarding the prices of automobiles now and what they will be in the near months to come. It is reasonable to assume that since the prices of all cars, both pleasure and commercial, increased so rapidly at the beginning of the war, they will necessarily decrease with the increase in production of cars. But at present there is very little increase in production. The large automobile builders as yet have not been able to get back to pre-war conditions. They are unable to get the proper metal for the construction of the cars. Until normal conditions are again reached the production will increase slowly.

There is an apparent shortage of 700,000 cars in the passenger car market. To make up this defficiency the output of 1919 should reach approximately 3,000,000 cars, yet it is doubtful whether the output will reach half that amount. The year will close with the manufacturers still a good ways behind their market. Another way of looking at it is that every car that is fit for anything will be sold this year, and that in all probability it will be found a year from now that two cars could have been sold for every car that actually moves from trade to consumer hands.

The truck situation is different, but no less encouraging. The manufacturers who have been engaged in building trucks for the government, about fifty

IN HEALTH CRUSADE

JUNIOR RED CROSS CAMPAIGN WILL LAST 12 WEEKS

DAILY HEALTH CHORES

Object Is to Form Hobits of Sanitation and Cleanliness That Will Prove Barrier to Disease.

The health campaign of the Junior Red Cross is announced to begin February 9 and will continue for twelve weeks.

The object of this crusade is to enlist the interest and enthusiasm of the children so that they will form the habit of doing the daily health chores and thus lay the foundation for good health. It is under the direction of the American Red Cross and the National Society for the Prevention of Tuberculosis.

There are eleven health chores listed and if the child keeps these for two weeks he receives the title of Page; if he keeps them for four weeks he becomes a Squire and wears the Squire button; if for eight weeks, he becomes a full Knight and receives a silver pin; and for a total of twelve weeks he becomes a real Knight Banneret and wears the gold Knighthood pin.

The health chores are:

1. I washed my hands before each meal today.
2. I washed my face and ears and neck and cleaned my finger nails today.
3. I tried to keep fingers, pencils and everything that might be unclean out of my mouth and nose.
4. I drank a glass of water before each meal and before going to bed, and drank no tea or coffee.
5. I brushed my teeth in the morning and in the evening.
6. I took ten or more deep breaths of fresh air.
7. I played outdoors or with windows open more than thirty minutes.
8. I was in bed ten hours and kept my windows open.

(Boys and girls thirteen years of age may change this to nine hours).

9. I tried today to sit up straight, stand straight, eat slowly and attend to the needs of the body regularly.
10. I tried to keep clean and good natured and to do some service.
11. I took a bath on the days marked (X).

To Parents:—If your boy or girl does the Modern Health Crusade chores or duties faithfully for one week he will be taught valuable lessons; if he keeps them up strictly for two or more weeks he will lay the foundation for health habits.

To Boys and Girls: — Seventy-two points in one week makes a perfect record. This requires all of the first ten to be done daily and a bath taken at least twice. More than two baths may be counted extra. To receive buttons and pins you must do at least fifty-four chores every week. Your teacher must be satisfied by your cleanness every day and by other signs that you are doing chores thoroughly before you have a right to the certificate, button or pin.

To the Teachers of Nodaway County: —You have received a letter from the Chapter School Committee of the Junior Red Cross setting forth the purposes of this campaign. To say that it was inaugurated by the National Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis and has been urged by the American Red Cross is to assure you that it is no fad gotten up to add work to your already busy day. The calls for production are over to a large extent, but the days of reconstruction bring many problems. Not the least of these are the health problems, which have arisen, as a need through the revelations of the medical examinations of the army. You are seeing in a very definite way, the necessity of health habits. You can do a valuable service by co-operating in this work. Please read the literature sent you and enlist the children and parents.

St. Louis is now the largest primary fur market in the world.

The general strike spread today. Employees of the Carleton and other hotels went out.

COVEY WRITES A "DINGER"

Says St. Mihiel Was Like Shooting Rabbits Only It Was Heinies.

Corporal Charles Covey, the son of N. C. Covey, formerly of this city, now living at Pueblo, Colo., has been seeing life in France with the 356th regiment, 89th Division. The following is a copy of his Christmas letter to his father and it shows that spirit of all the Missouri men that took them straight through the lines and brought them out smiling and ready for another "smash" is necessary.

LaBourbale, France, Nov. 23.

Dear Dad: We have permission to write our "dads" a real live Xmas letter and I will try to make mine a "dinger." First a few words about where I am at present. I was one of the picked few from my company who were granted leaves, because we had "stuck it out" with our company from start to finish. That don't sound like it was hard, yet there were very few who managed to do it. This place is used for a "Yank Leave Center" and everything is fixed up lovely and I sure am enjoying myself. Lots of good eats and plenty of sleep; beautiful scenery and "beau coup" shows and amusements. I enjoy watching the people over here more than anything and also trying to talk to them, for they are always trying to do a Yank a favor. But they can't figure out how the Yanks could whip Germany in three short months. A German captain that we captured, expressed it very well. He said, "The Americans know no fear, they shoot straight, they never miss, always hit in the head and never look back." That is just the way we did it. We whipped them because we had more "pep" and more horse sense, for a Yank could fight in three different ways at once, while Heinie could fight only in just the one way he had been trained. I have covered quite a lot of this country since coming over, seen lots of beautiful scenery, lots of historic places, but give me the good old U. S. every time.

This morning a guide took some of us up to a small peak here called Charlemagne's Plateau where we could see 5 villages and had a wonderful view. It is 4,200 feet high and is the place where Caesar once camped with his army. I know you like that stuff.

Well, dad, I have seen quite a lot of hard fighting and some that was easy. I was over 100 days on the line, but it is all over now. I was in the St. Mihiel drive, my outfit being in the front wave. It was a walk away for us. You remember shooting rabbits, when you were with a big bunch and all spread out in a skirmish line? Well, that was the St. Mihiel drive only the rabbits were boches. We held the line there for a while, moved to the Argonne forest, were in reserve and Nov. 1 my company went into the front line again and stayed until the finish and also it was d——hard fighting. We crossed the Meuse river at Pouilly, near Sedan, the night of Nov. 10 and fought like bears to get a foot hold and keep it. The hardest fighting I have ever seen was the last 18 hours of the war, when we fought our way across the river and up the hill on the other side. But it is "finis tout suite" now and I guess we will be on the way home in a couple of months and those fights make better verbal stories than written ones, so you see I will have quite a lot to tell. I will get my first service strpe on my birthday but I am not sporting any wound stripes for which I am duly thankful. I will try to bring home a few small souvenirs, both German and French but not many for a dough-boy carries everything he owns on his back, so you see the reason why there won't be many. When I get home, dad, we sure will step about some and make up for lost time. I will probably be back to my outfit before I write again. Wishing you all a merry Christmas and a happy New Year I remain,

Your loving son,

Drink Delusions.

From the Boston Transcript.

A couple of old rounders were sitting in a barroom imbibing cocktails. Presently one of them remarked, "Do you know, Bill, I think I'll buy this hotel."

"Wait till we've had a few more drinks," said Bill, "and I'll sell it to you."

David Lehmer, with the A. E. F., Says Some of the Hardest Battles Were on Verdun Front.

In a letter to his sister, Miss Bertha Lehmer, David N. Lehmer writes from France as follows:

Somewhere in France, Dec. 27, 1918. —We are staying in a village called Langres—it is some place. I am with the 26th division, one of the first full divisions over to France and one of the main fighting divisions and I hope it will be one of the first divisions home We ought to be home by Easter. I also received the Christmas box about two weeks ago. I also received candy, tobacco and cigarettes from the Y. M. C. A. and some candy from the government. The last time I wrote you I was in Verdun, was there for a few days rest. We went up to the Verdun front October 16 with 200 men and remained in the trenches until the 10th of November. We had thirteen men left when we came out; some of them were killed, others gassed and wounded. I was not on the front when the last shot was fired being one of the lucky ones to get a furlough the 10th of November to a place called Uriage-des-Bains in the southern part of France where I had a good rest and a good time. The Verdun front is one of the worst fronts of the battle. I can be thankful that I am still alive and not wounded. The boys I came over with were sent to different places and about one third of the company I was with were killed. Will Knobe of Falls City, was killed in action. We sure had some mean battles during the last moth of fighting. Many of the boys over here have the "flu" at present.

FIRST CROP OF CHICKENS

T. J. Penisten Has 100 Already and Expects To Be the "Spring Chicken King" of Community.

The spring like days of last month had the same effect on T. J. Penisten's flock of hens, as it did on some of the amateur gardners round about, made them think it was real spring. Consequently the hens went to laying like sixty and the more industrious of the lot went to setting.

Result—T. J. has over one hundred spring chickens that are over two weeks old. Twenty of the lot are over a month old. These were hatched in the old fashioned way and the rest in an incubator. Mr. Penisten has a hundred-egg incubation ready to hatch next week. He raises Rhode Island Reds and dreams of a twin-six cylinder car from the profits this year.

It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsilitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds on the chest (it often prevents pneumonia). PHYSICALLY FIT AT ANY AGE

It isn't age, it's careless living that puts men "down and out." Keep your internal organs in good condition and you will always be physically fit.

The kidneys are the most overworked organs in the human body. When they break down under the strain and the deadly uric acid accumulates and crystallizes look out! These sharp crystals tear and scratch the delicate urinary channels causing excruciating pain and set up irritations which may cause premature degeneration and often do turn into deadly Bright's Disease.

One of the first warnings of sluggish kidney action is pain or stiffness in the small of the back, loss of appetite, indigestion or rheumatism.

The United Workers Auxiliary met last Thursday with 19 members present. Officers for the Auxiliary were elected as follows: Mrs. Chas. Epperson, chairman; Mrs. Henry Bartlett, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. George Collins, Mrs. Wilbur Clayton, inspectors. Nineteen refugee garments were made at this meeting.

Home Service.

To Discharged Soldiers: Through your months of faithful service the Red Cross has been your true friend. Now that you are again in civilian life is no reason why the same organization is not still your friend. We now will serve you through a different channel of the Red Cross, known as Home Service. The time has passed for Surgical Dressings and our soldier lads are coming home. We appreciate each and every one of you and the service you have given, whether it be in the camps of the United States or foreign service. To show this appreciation the Red Cross organized the Home Service department. The duty of this department is to assist the families of soldiers and the soldiers themselves in any way possible. Like any organization there are certain regulations which the Home Service representatives must follow. Discharged soldiers will find it to their advantage to get in touch with this department of the Red Cross immediately after their discharge. We want our Nodaway County boys and their families to have the privileges which have been legislated for them by our government. New bills are being passed at present dealing with the right of the discharged soldiers. Copies of these legislations are sent to the Home Service departments of the Red Cross. All legal advice through this organization is free for the asking. We are glad to be able to serve you in return for your most wonderful service to us. No soldier should feel that he is indebted to the Red Cross because they helped him procure his back pay or some other service. We are so glad to help you. Bring your troubles to us. We will be your confidential friend. In each township there is a Home Service representative and you can often get your advice through this person.

The Home Coming.

Back from the days of their danger daring.
Over the leagues of foam,
Back from the scenes of their far warfaring,
Our Boys are coming home.

We who have praise for them, and through long days for them
Lifted a silent prayer,
How shall we meet them, how shall we greet them,
Dauntless and debonair?

We are proud of them, all the crowd of them;
Loud be the lilt of our cheers!
In the wild rattle and rage of the battle,
Ah, but they know no fears!

SENDS POEM TO MOTHER

Lester Holaday Writes to Mother at Home in Verse.

Lester Holaday, the son of Mrs. Ida Holaday of this city has written and sent to his mother the following poem which expresses how the boys over seas feel about coming home.

France Needs Us No More.

O, Sweet U. S. so fair and strong,
In France we are waiting for you,
Our heads we are scratching and inquiring,
Why on earth we don't go home.
In France we have fought for you,
And in battles our comrades have fallen,
But in our hearts no evil dwells
Since we have forced the Kaiser to abdicate.
Fine our course and our dress,
Hard our lot and sorrows deep,
But ancient history brings to our minds,
Of Demons that were forced to resign.
On earth the winds of peace will blow,
When to Hell, the Kaiser has gone,
To pay the price of sins so great,
A dandy fire for the Devils, he will make.
Let us join hands and hasten away,
To our sweetheart and mothers all,
Our visions are so great,
That we are a raring to return to the States.
Our hearts are not full of woe,
But we are all a raring to go,
For our Sister Nation needs us no more,
So good bye France, we are a going home.

Christening Boats an Old Custom.

From the Detroit News.

Date of the origin of the "launching ceremony" is uncertain, but records tell how ancient Egyptians blessed their ships as they entered the water and the Greeks and Romans are known to have done likewise, using both wine and water. When the British ship, Sovereign was launched in 1488, in the presence of Henry VII, the vessel was named and ceremoniously blessed. We read that "a mitred prelate, with attendant train of priests and choristers, croziers in hand, with candle, book and bell and holy water," participated in the benediction. In France, during the Eighteenth and early part of the Nineteenth centuries, the launching ceremony was singularly akin to the baptismal service for an infant. This was especially so where merchant craft and fishing vessels were concerned. The practice lay close to the hearts of the pious people, and the parish priest usually officiated Not infrequently the ship's godparents were children. No wine was used, but holy water was sprinkled on the bow wtih the giving of a benediction.

FRENCH SACRIFICE FOR LIBERTY HEROIC

Six millions of French sons have offered their lives that democracy might live. 30 million other French men and women sacrificed their all for the same purpose. America's debt of gratitude to France for this is very great. We also are indebted to her for an invaluable remedy for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments discvered by her peasants, which it is reported has saved many American lives and prevented thousands of surgical operations. Geo. H. Mayr, for many years a prominent Chicago chemist, imports the ingredients and sells this remedy under the name of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucoeus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. Maryville Drug Co. and druggists everywhere.—Adv.

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Black River Falls, Wis.—"As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot say enough in praise of it. I suffered from organic troubles and my side hurt me so I could hardly be up from my bed, and I was unable to do my housework. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me so I did not need the operation, and I am telling all my friends about it."—Mrs. A. W. BINZER, Black River Falls, Wis.

of them in all have turned out approximately 127,000 war trucks. These will not have to reconvert their plants to any great extent, but are planning to go right on from their present position. Thus an output of 350,000 commercial vehicles is predicted for 1919, equivalent to 87¾ per cent of all the trucks in use a year ago. What the great growth in highways transport thus indicated means the industry as a whole can hardly be foretold at this time.

Maryville automobile dealers are unable to get all the cars they want. In every case they have contracted for as many as the companies will allow them. The prices probably will remain the same until the production of pleasure cars exceed the demand.
